

MDXOPEN Wi-Fi Connection Guide

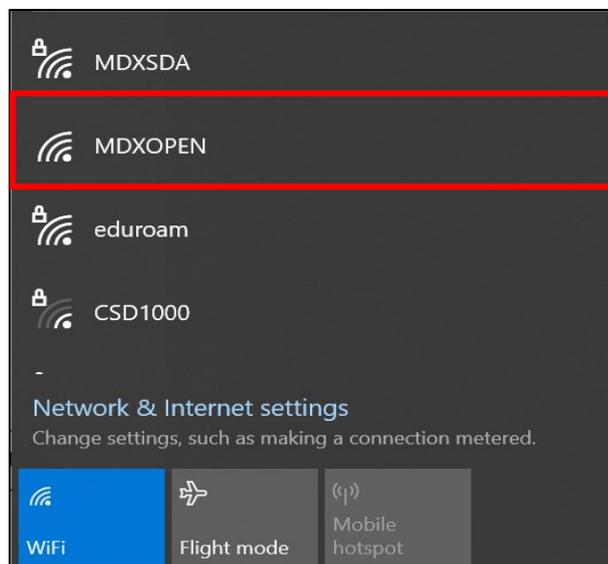

This guide will show you how to connect to MDXOPEN Wi-Fi network on various devices including Windows and Mac. Please Note: Instructions may differ slightly depending on your device type and firmware.

Connecting to MDX Wi-Fi on Windows

1. Go into your Wi-Fi settings on your Windows device and make sure the Wi-Fi option is turned on.
Click on Show Available Networks to get a list of nearby networks.

2. Click on MDXOPEN and Select "Connect" to begin connection.
Connection to network may differ depending on your location.

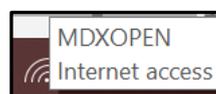

3. Once your device has connected to the network, a webpage will appear directing you to the BT Wi-Fi acceptance page. Select “Start

4. After a few seconds, you will be connected to MDXOPEN. To check if you are connected to the network, your device status bar will display a Wi-Fi icon, this means connection has been established.

5. Hovering your mouse over the Wi-Fi icon on your computer will display a small window showing “MDXOPEN Internet Access”.

If you see MDXOPEN it means you have successfully connected to the network.

Connecting to MDX Wi-Fi on Mac

Go into System Preferences by clicking on the Apple icon located on the top left-hand corner of the screen.

Select “Network” icon

2.

On the Network page, click on the drop-down arrow and select MDXOPEN.

Wait a few seconds to allow the laptop to connect to the network

Once connected, you will be directed to a webpage to enable the internet connection to access MDXOPEN.

3.

Click on “Start using MDXOPEN” to connect to the internet.

4. After a few seconds you will be connected to the network. The Wi-Fi icon will turn green and display “Connected”. This will establish a successful connection to MDXOPEN.
